The Professor And The Manny (Gay Romance)

Synopsis

Ned needs a babysitter for his daughter, Mina. When he hires Jeff, he ends up with a manny and so much more. Mina is a vulnerable child who has endured too many losses. Ned has given her a new life, but she doesn't come out of her shell for just anyone. When Jeff comes into their lives, he wins her over and starts out babysitting for only a few hours a day. That's long enough for him to realize that he's incredibly attracted to Ned. Ned feels the same way, but he's a professor and Jeff is a student at his college. Ned is determined to keep his distance. That only lasts until he learns that Jeff has been keeping something from him. When Ned finds out that Jeff has no place to live, he invites him home and hires him as Mina's manny. There's no turning back now. Living in the same house, neither man can deny his feelings for long. But when danger disrupts their happy life, Jeff blames himself. Can Ned convince him to stay? The next time danger strikes, Jeff might be the only one who can protect what's most precious to them both.

Professor and new dad to adopted daughter Mina; Ned is a bit overprotective and looking for a nanny for his sweet, shy, deeply troubled young daughter. Having lost her family back in Russia, one of which she witnessed, she needed someone that can bring her out of her shell a little bit, but Mina doesn't trust just anyone. Jeff was trying to skate by, by the skin of his teeth; losing his job and apartment, he was hard pressed to find a job so he could stop couch surfing, stop sleeping outside and stay in school. Easier said than done though. Having babysat an old professor's daughters, he was desperate and thought to ask him again if he needed help with them. He didn't, but he new a new daddy and his adorable, sweet, shy little Mina that did. Mina took to Jeff immediately, he was patient and gentle with her while encouraging her as well. She had him wrapped around her little finger in no time. I have to admit, I'm a sucker for stories involving kids; there is nothing hotter than a good dad. I love the whole "manny" aspect, I felt this one was narrated instead of just going from one POV to another; as I guess it was to an extent, I didn't feel like we got any internal dialogue or thoughts; and if we did, it was like, "Jeff thought this" and "Ned said this" and "Ned done that"... It was hard for me to feel it....Also, in the beginning the whole back and forth; "He doesn't like me, he could never like someone like me" and the other guy was like "He'd never go for me" and it was a bunch of low self-esteem back and forth and that got old. Does that make sense? I dunno, maybe I'm being crazy. It was too hard for me to get emotionally invested in it. I wasn't feeling it.
